UAply

Get UAply applicants directly in your hiring system

What changes when you connect. People find your jobs in UAply (from your own public job board) and choose to apply. Without a connection, UAply sends them to your careers page to finish. With one, their application arrives in your system as a new candidate on that job: name, email, phone and the resume as a file, and, where your system's application takes them, city, links, school and degree and the answers to your screening questions their profile has (Lever's API takes no screening answers). If your form asks something their profile cannot answer, UAply asks them first; if it still cannot be answered, nothing is sent and they finish on your page.

Ten minutes, three steps. (1) Reply to our email to agree to the one-page consent letter (2 minutes). (2) Create the key below (5 minutes). (3) Send it to us through a one-time secure link from your password manager, or read it to us on a call; never paste it into an email. We connect it and test it the same day; you can revoke it at any time.

You use	Where you create the key	Give it only these rights	Also tell us
Greenhouse	Configure, Dev Center, API Credential Management: new credential, type Job Board API	Job Board API (submits applications to your published jobs)	Your board name (after `job-boards.greenhouse.io/`)
Lever	Settings, Integrations and API, API Credentials: Generate new key under Postings API (a Super Admin)	Postings API	Your site name (after `jobs.lever.co/`)

Privacy. UAply never sends gender, race or ethnicity, veteran status, disability status or any other voluntary self-identification, even when your form asks. Your key stays on UAply's server: it is never shown in the app, written to a log or put in an error message, and it is used only to read your job's application form and submit applications people chose to send you. Each application is one person who reviewed what would be sent and agreed. Hiring decisions stay yours; UAply does not rank or screen applicants for you.

Stopping. Revoke the key in the same screen where you made it: applications stop at once. Tell us and we delete our copy and take you off our list within 2 business days.
